MEET THE YURT TEAM

Inga is a spectacular photographer capturing all Nicholsons company photos and running her own business, specialising in portraits (don't just take my word for it, visit @inga\_kebleryte\_photography on Instagram to see more) ... Her creativity does not stop there as she has recently taken a keen interest in pottery!! Inga was born in Lithuania but resides in the Cotswolds and loves an adventure.

Luis, our Portuguese chef, is one of the original Yurt members and has worked here for many years now, getting food to you in a speedy and immaculate manner! Originating from Sabrosa in the Douro Valley, Luis started as a kitchen porter at a young age until one day the chef recognised his flair for cooking, taking him under his wing... The rest is history!!

Enrico is our creative chef, taking inspirations from anything and everything... His journey began in Genoa, Italy, where his interest in food began due to his parents' traditional, Italian home-cooking. Enrico is also heavily influenced by the seasons, stating "Mother nature knows what's best and we should listen to her."

Francesca has immense creative skills, which are prevalent in her picture-perfect desserts and exquisite afternoon tea! Her powerful imagination originates from her love of drawing, having studied at an academy of arts in Verona close to her hometown of Mantova. Frankie originally learnt her baking skills from her grandma, who often said "Don't measure, use the feeling." With this philosophy in mind, Francesca has also created her own business.

Chloe, as well as her bubbly personality, has a wealth of hospitality knowledge having worked in the industry for a number of years... in this time she has travelled to all corners of the globe as a major part of the catering team for Formula One in 2019! She balances her Yurt life with the accounts department here at Nicholsons, where she is currently learning the ropes to further her career.

My name is Jacinta. I am the manager here at the Yurt and have written these introductory paragraphs about my colleagues because my main passion is people! I love to celebrate the talents of the amazing people I work with and am in awe of everything they achieve. I love sports and coaching, and I am currently studying a course in Events Management... the skills I have learnt will hopefully become apparent to you all in the coming months, with Yurt event evenings on the horizon!!
